

Animal Services Division

Animal Services rescues injured or abused animals, controls animals found roaming at-large, and brings lost pets to a shelter where their owners can reclaim them. Animal Services is also responsible for identifying situations where citizens have failed to properly restrain their pets or where a pet has bitten someone or another pet.

Although we love all animals, Cayce animal services are unable to remove nuisance wildlife. If you are having an issue with a wild animal on your property, please contact the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Division's Columbia office at (803) 734-3886 for assistance.

If you would like to report a deceased animal in a public roadway, please contact the South Carolina Department of Transportation at (803) 359-4103 for assistance.

In 2021 Animal Control Officers responded to 722 calls for service within the City of Cayce.

Parks Division

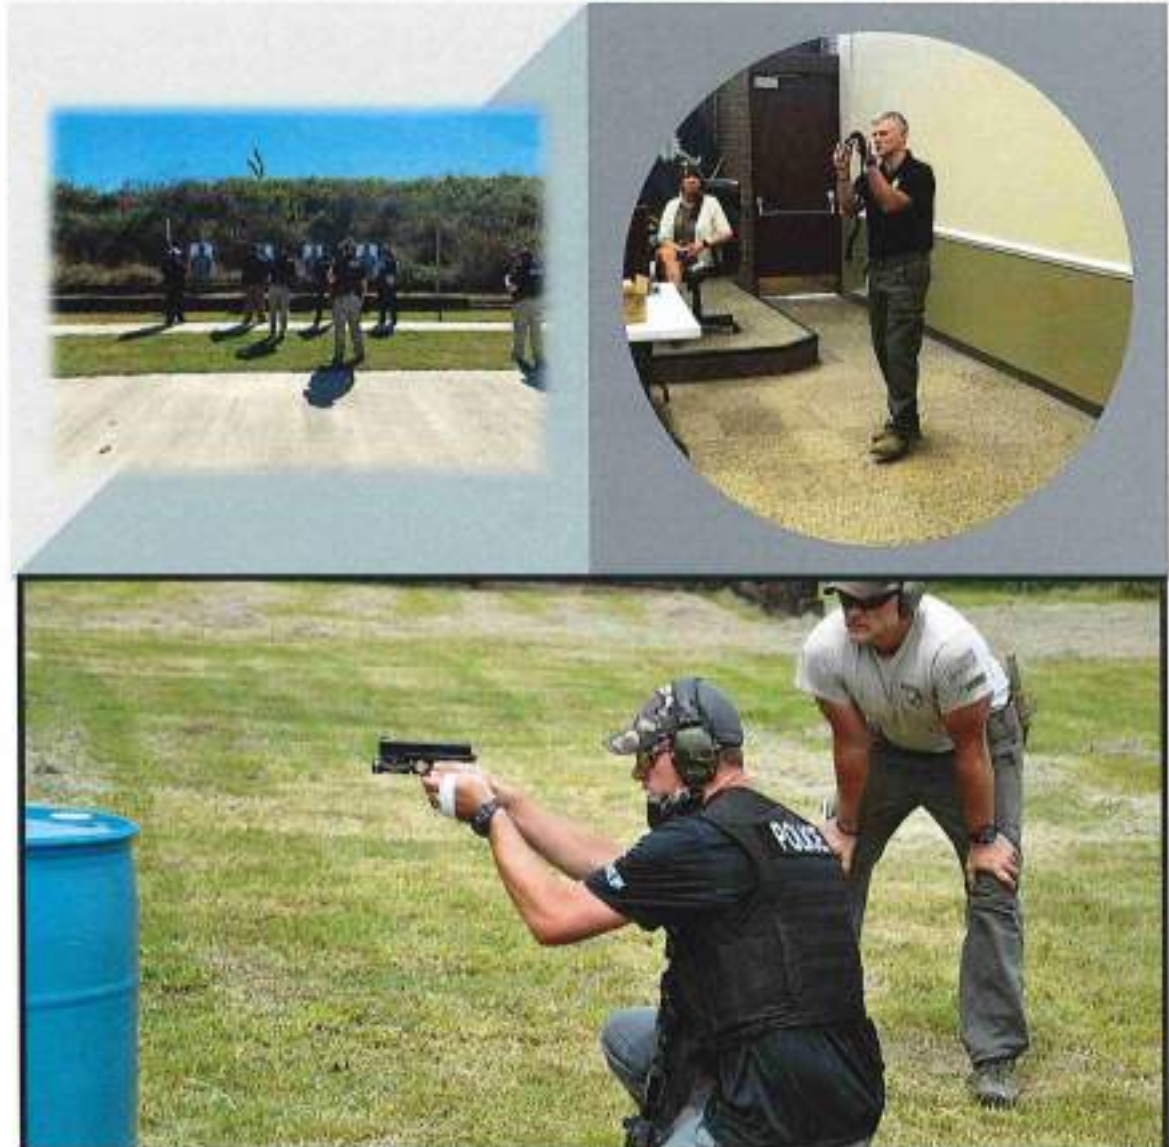

The mission of the Parks Division is to enhance the lives of the residents and visitors of the City of Cayce by providing welcoming and safe parks for people to relax in and enjoy. They patrol and monitor park activities to ensure visitors are safe, follow the rules and respect the natural beauty of our parks.

Our park officers interact with to the public and answer questions and inquiries concerning the history and natural resources of the parks. They also offer services such as providing transportation as needed, obtaining medical or law enforcement assistance and encouraging crime prevention through secured vehicles.

Professional Standards & Training Division

The Cayce Police Department conducts year-round training to maintain a high standard of professionalism for our officers to serve this community. Below is a list of some of the extensive training classes our officers participate in.

- Anti Bias training which has been included in required training for our Officers.
- DV yearly training in compliance with Academy and Department Standards.
- Less lethal training and equipment. This was incorporated in the last year with use of less lethal shotguns and equipment.
- Advanced training for impaired Driving Enforcement (ARIDE and other programs)
- Leadership Classes that will allow better communication and performance in every discipline in our department.
- FTO programs that have been revised and improved for better preparation for new and even existing officers.
- Interview and Interrogation training classes that assist in investigative work as well as for first line Officers.
- Advanced forensic technique training to assist with crime scene and investigative techniques.
- TAC Med classes to assist with Officer first aid and rapid response during incidents.
- Yearly training to be in compliance with the SCCJA. This includes firearms training, driving training, defensive tactics and secondary weapons training including Taser and OC.
- FBI-Leeda training which will expand supervisors skill sets.

Emergency Management Division

The Cayce Police Department wants to help you meet your goals for emergency preparedness. To better prepare you, we offer several training classes and services to make your environment a safer place.

- Active threat training for citizens
- Stop the bleed training
- CPR
- Threat assessments for businesses, schools, and churches
- Safety assessments for residence

Citizen Advisory Commitee

The goal of the Citizens' Advisory Committee is to increase the department's professionalism and accountability to the citizens of Cayce. Members will review and provide valuable, objective input on citizen complaints, disciplinary actions and internal policies and procedures.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee meets on a quarterly basis and will be comprised of a diverse cross-section of Cayce residents, including ministers, retired military veterans, school administrators, and community leaders. Members are appointed by the Chief of Police and must agree to a twelve-month tenure on the committee.

Cayce Police & Fire Departments recognizes their 2021 Officers of The Year Awards

Cayce, SC 12/09/2021 – The City of Cayce Police Department announced this week the recipients of their 2021 Cayce Officers of the Year Awards. These prestigious awards recognize the outstanding achievements within the Cayce Police and Fire Departments.

The Cayce Police Department's spokesperson said that Sabrina Todd has been named Administrator of the Year. According to their release, Todd is an asset to the department and has taken initiative in solving potential problems before they arise. She continues to increase the efficiency of the organization in creative and insightful ways.

Vinton "Gill" Gillerson has been named the 2021 Rookie of the Year. Department leaders say that Gillerson displays a hard work ethic and exceeds the expectations of a traditional rookie officer. Gillerson is a team player who routinely offers assistance to other officers and accepts extra assignments when necessary.

The Cayce Police Department also announced that Gary Carnaggio is their School Resource Officer of the Year. Carnaggio exemplifies everything the Community Services Unit represents. Carnaggio continuously demonstrates commitment to ensuring that school staff members and students remain safe!

Donta Stewart has been named the 2021 Investigator of the Year. The department's administration said that Donta takes the initiative and responsibility to work difficult cases. Stewart asserts a subtle, yet steadfast form of leadership that his fellow investigators have come to depend on. He has demonstrated a willingness to assist others, including younger, less-experienced officers and investigators.

The Cayce Police Department also announced that Lieutenant Dave Hoffman is this year's Supervisor of the Year. Hoffman, pictured in the attached photo, exemplifies the qualities of a true leader by offering others assistance, answering questions, and providing guidance. Hoffman holds his people accountable by setting high standards, which improves the other officers' quality of work.

Anthony "Tony" Branham has been named as the Cayce Police Officer of the Year. Branham has an incredible sense of attention to detail and fully utilizes sources of information and criminal intelligence to its full potential. He consistently applies this information in an effective way that results in closing cases by arrest that have gone cold.

Finally, Drew Creed has been awarded the prestigious J. Edgar Hoover Award. Creed sought out education and training opportunities in order to improve himself. Creed takes initiative in his training and is able to share it with others. His dedication and professionalism allow him to be given this distinguished award.

Sgt. Eddie Powell, who recently retired from his career in law enforcement was presented with a flag that flew over the department in his honor, his service weapon, and a challenge coin plaque, upon his retirement.

Cayce Police Chief, Chris Cowan, stated, "One of the best things we do as leaders is recognize the work of our team members. The hard part is singling out a few when you are surrounded by dedicated and professional officers and staff. The awards, voted on by Department employees, included several distinguished awards such as Officer of the Year. The J. Edgar Hoover Award recipient was nominated by a citizen. We are proud of the work these men and women do each and every day, and we are honored to celebrate each of them."

2022 Accomplishments

Lt. Danielle McCord was awarded the 2022 SC Law Enforcement Administrator of the Year award.

This award is presented for outstanding performance in the administration of a law enforcement agency/School Resource Officer program.

Senior Police Officer Mandy Fournier was selected as the South Carolina Regional SRO of the Year.

This award is presented for outstanding performance as a School Resource Officer.

The Cayce Police Department's School Resource Officer program was selected as the SRO Program of the Year.

This award is presented to the SRO Program with the highest level of performance in schools, student-oriented enhancement, school violence prevention, extracurricular programs, community support, and overall performance/dedication to the School Resource Officer Program.

"The Cayce Police Department's School Resource Officers are mentors, coaches, counselors, caregivers, teachers and the first line of defense for our school-aged children," Chief Chris Cowan said. "All nine of our Cayce SROs are consummate professionals dedicated to our youth; and we could not be more proud of the work they do every day for our City, our community and our students."

We are committed to giving back to our communities and in doing so we create safer communities and long lasting relationships. This year we were able to refurbish bikes through the generosity of Dialed Bikes and 212 Motors. These two businesses helped give 15 bikes to children in our very own community. Christmas was made brighter for these kids and for our officers when they saw all the smiles on their faces and the laughter they were sharing. Our officers are passionate about our citizens.

Fiscal Year 2021

The City of Cayce prides itself on being diligent and transparent when using public funds for the operations of the City. Further, we strive to provide the best services with very little impact to our citizens. Similar to many neighboring cities and due to the increase in cost of living, the proposed FY23 budget includes a 4.37 millage adjustment to local property taxes -this equates to $1.45 a month for every $100,000 in assessed home value. In being good stewards of taxpayer money, the City has not increased any fees or taxes for several years, including through the pandemic period.

Cayce Police Department was awarded 7.4 Million Dollars in 2022
